Winter Share

Last Years Winter Share in One Box

How long can you extend the season with Local, Organic Vegetables? Year round if you plan ahead :)

Early Bird Special : The first 12 signups get a $10 discount!

The Winter Share is a good way to stock up on storage crops during the winter months. There will be Two Large boxes estimated at $50/box delivered in November, just in time for the holidays. It will be a heavy box including long storage crops such as potatoes, carrots, onions, garlic, winter squash, cabbage, beets, Brussels sprouts, rutabaga, and turnip, as well as cold hardy leafy greens like spinach, kale, and Swiss chard. All produce is 100% Certified Organic from right here in Wisconsin. We will also email newsletters to go with each box that will include recipes and storage tips. The cost is $110 per share. Not enough to get you through the winter? Four Boxes for $200! Find a friend to split the share and introduce them to CSA.

*You don't need a root cellar to store your veggies. Most vegetables can be stored in cool places like basements, front or back porch, or a spare bedroom. This website is loaded with ideas on how to keep storage crops.
